

Draw A Daisy

Watch Charles Howard Bury use the power of very careful looking to draw a daisy. While he works he only looks at the daisy and not at his drawing. Find a daisy, or other flower, that you like and look at all the little details that make it unique. Then draw your flower slowly and carefully as if you were a botanist who had traveled across many countries to find that particular one.